ASSUMPTION COLLEGE
WORCESTER, MASSACHUSETTS

*By car i came,
and bus, train
and plane,
from north, south,
east and west,
with my ideas,
dreams and hopes — and questions too.*

perhaps that was really the reason i was here, because of the questions, though i didn't realize it fully then.

i knew "boundless opportunities for advancement" a college degree would offer. i'd heard that from a hundred different people and didn't doubt it for a moment.

still, there had to be more to it than that. there were questions that were more basic and personal that had to be answered. and i had one thing in my favor. i wanted to know.

*My letters were addressed 500 salisbury street.
perhaps for the first time in my life i was sharing something as personal as an address with someone other than my family. a strange feeling at first — but living that closely, friendships had to form quickly.*

before too long it was not too difficult to think of them as my other family. but what surprised me most was the fact that we had so much in common. hundreds, often, thousands of miles apart and yet interests were the same. it was indeed, a "small world."

The "questions" we'd brought became foremost in our minds. we asked and were answered. learning became a dialogue.

with great men who were physically alive, and with others who'd always be kept alive somehow.

names we had read about and knew by passing acquaintance became a part of our lives: aristotle, plato, st. thomas.

and so it was that religion became more than a toy to be brought out on Sunday morning and be put back an hour later. we prayed alone, or together, in the chapel, or in the woods, a dialogue with Him.

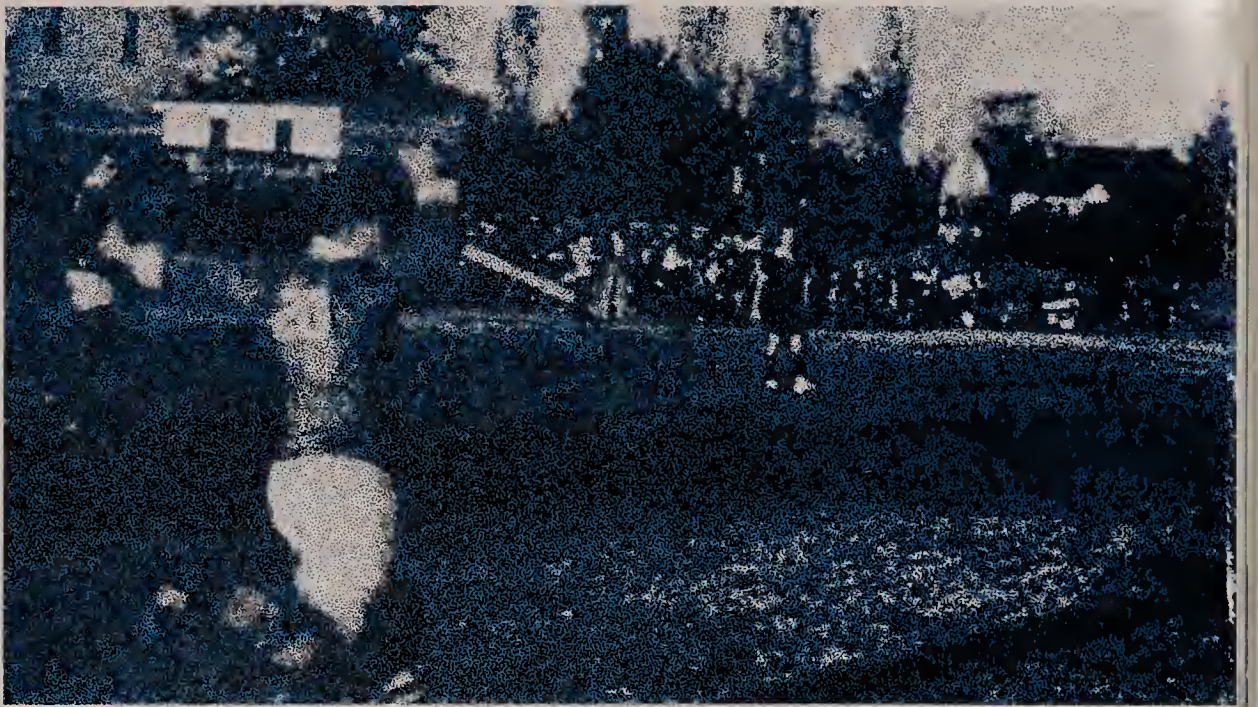

But our learning was not limited to this. we were men and had other capacities and needs. the development of the whole man was the reason we were here and with the goal recognized, we persued it feverishly.

Our bodies too were not neglected. the crisp october afternoons saw greyhound harriers and soccer teams in action.

*And the dances. will we ever forget those nights at pleasant valley or the itam?
another dialogue — and this a very old tradition on any campus.*

And so it was learning, praying, playing, living, laughing — together. that's really what it's all about — life.

*and at assumption we proudly admit, that we “. . . took the road less traveled by,
and that has made
all the difference.”*

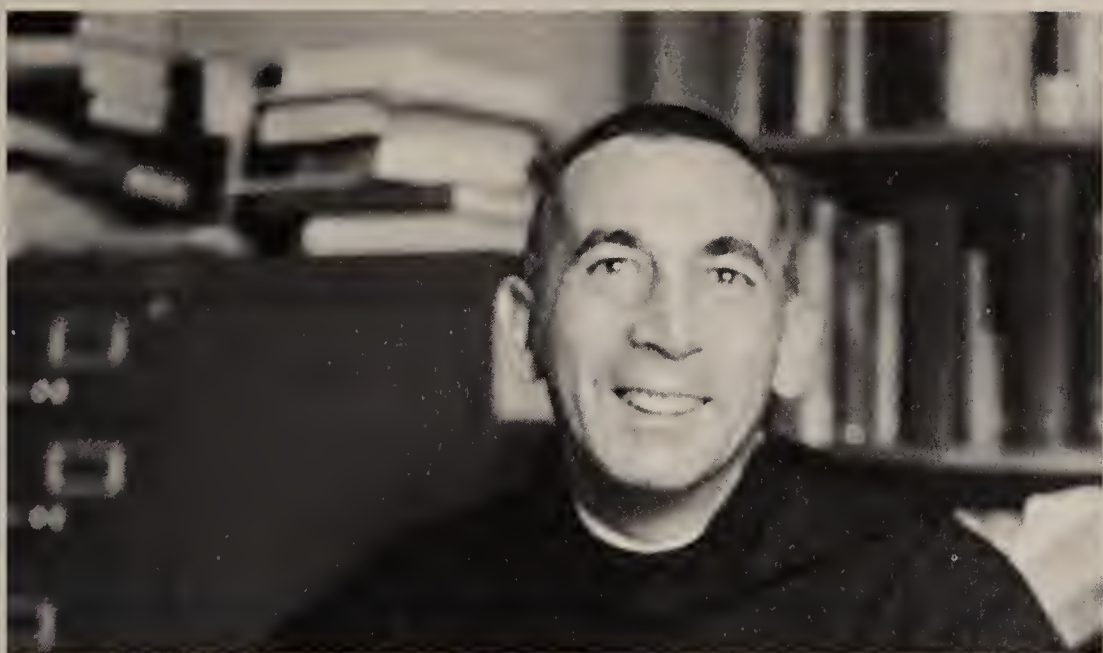

the 1964-65 school year has seen great changes wrought upon assumption college, not only externally with the addition of a new dormitory and chapel, but internally as well. the heights now salutes assumption's new president and worthy successor to father armand desautels, father louis f. dion.

father lous brings with him to this office rather impressive credentials, including service as chaplain to the american diplomatic community in moscow. the knowledge father louis gained there will no doubt be invaluable in situations he will encounter as assumption president.

VERY REV. LOUIS F. DION, A.A., M.A., PRESIDENT

REV. GEORGES L. BISSONNETTE, A.A., S.T.L., PH.D., DEAN OF FACULTY

VERY REV. ERNEST L. FORTIN, A.A.,
SUPERIOR OF THE COMMUNITY.

REV. RICHARD A. RICHARDS, A.A., S.T.L., M.A., DEAN OF MEN.

we would also like to take this opportunity to extend our heartiest congratulations to father armand on his appointment as superior of the north american province of the assumptionists. we feel certain that all his successes at assumption will be mirrored in his new office. to his title of vice-president, father ernest fortin has added a new one, that of superior of the community. the community has found in him a man of ready wit as well as a man of intelligence and spiritual strength. father richard richards too, brings an indispensable sense of humor to his position as assumption's new dean of men.

MR. BERNARD P. FARRAGHER, PH.D., PROFES-SOR OF ENGLISH, DEPARTMENTAL CHAIRMAN.

the 1964-1965 academic year was a banner one for assumption faculty, again emphasizing the growth of the school. eight members were added to the faculty to keep pace with the ever-increasing number of students. mr. duane h. berquist and mr. neil f. brophy came to assumption's philosophy department by way of laval university. their presence has already brought sighs of relief from fr. ernest fortin, a.a., chairman of the division of theology and philosophy, fr. donal lamothe, a.a., and mr. joseph h. hennessy. with the departure of fr. lawrence richard, a.a., who is completing his doctoral work, the english department was in need of assistance.

MR. RAYMOND J. MARION, PH.D., PROFESSOR OF HISTORY, CHAIRMAN OF SOCIAL SCIENCES
DIVISION

REV. POLYEUCTE GUISSARD, A.A., B.ès L., PRO-FESSOR OF FRENCH.

it appeared in the form of mr. john e. burke, owner of two master's degrees (english and history) and a ph.d. candidate. he joins dr. bernard p. farragher, chairman of the english department, mr. donald letendre, mr. michael j. o'shea, and fr. richard richards, a.a. in one of assumption's fast growing programs.

mr. david l. christianson and mr. charles erar who became a part of the french department this year with mr. george f. aubin, fr. polyeucte guissard, a.a., mr. theophile martin, and mr. philippe l. poisson have succeeded in strengthening that department.

MR. JOHN P. DUFAULT, M.S.ED., ASSISTANT PROFESSOR OF EDUCATION.

MR. MICHAEL J. O'SHEA, M.A., INSTRUCTOR
IN ENGLISH.

MR. RODRIGUE M. SUTHERLAND, M.A.T.,

MR. FRANK M. BUCKLEY, ED.D., PROFESSOR OF PSYCHOLOGY, CONSULTANT FOR COUNSELING IN PSYCHOLOGICAL SERVICES, CHAIRMAN OF THE DIVISION OF PSYCHOLOGY AND EDUCATION.

MR. JAMES A. ZWERNEMAN, PH.D., ASSISTANT PROFESSOR OF ECONOMICS.

it has also allowed fr. denys gonthier to concentrate more on assumption's spanish program in which he is ably assisted by a new professor, mr. manuel rollan alonso and mr. paul l. ryan. the appearance of dr. william j. mulloy who has taken over the german courses, permits mrs. tatiana w. ziss ph.d. to devote all of her time to russian, a big lift for both programs. the theology department went to outside help this year and brought in fr. leo thibault to help fr. eugene laplante, a.a. in his duties.

MR. WILLIAM J. MULLOY, PH.D., ASSOCIATE PROFESSOR OF GERMAN.

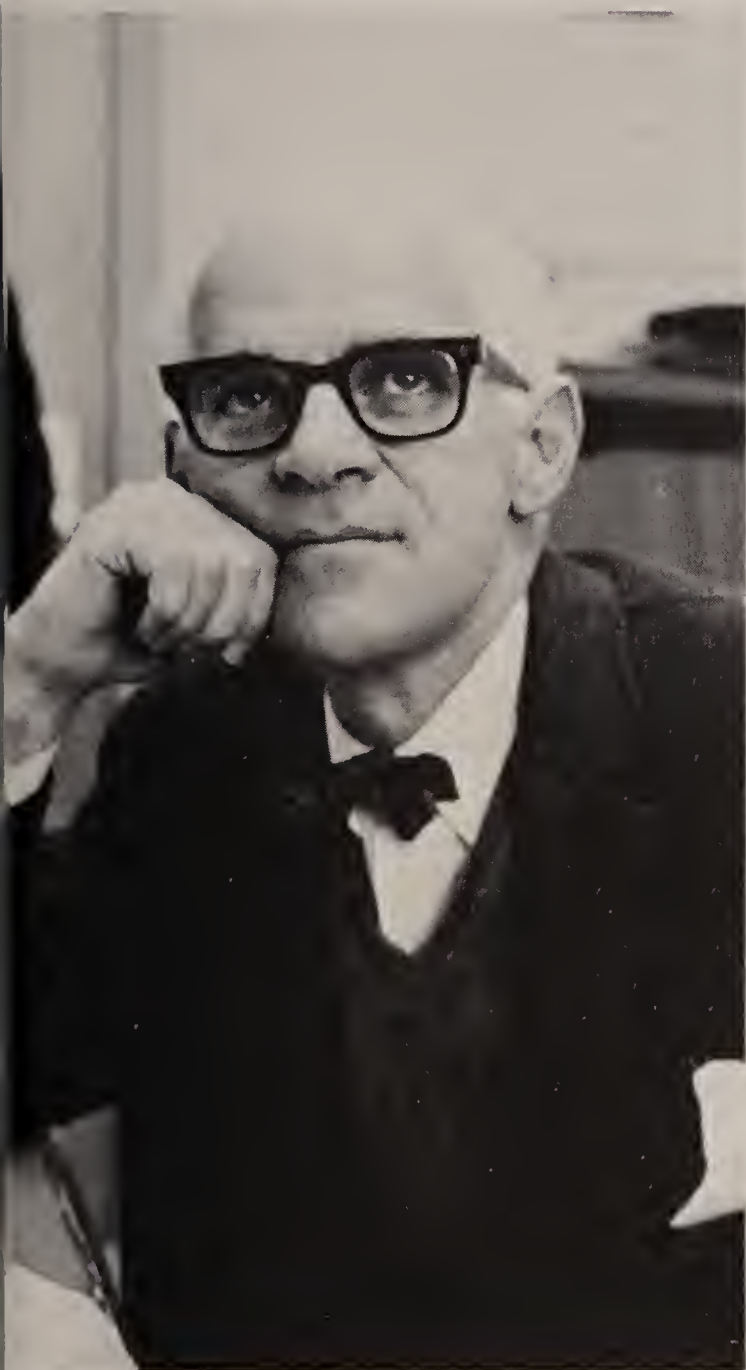

MR. MANUEL ROLLAN ALONSO, LL.B., ASSISTANT PROFESSOR OF SPANISH.

the division of social sciences which had its year last year with the addition of dr. david m. fahey, dr. louis d. silveri, and dr. james a. zwerneman was again responsible for a great job. along with the above-mentioned, praise is in order for fr. georges bissonnette, a.a., dr. george a. doyle, mr. norman r. glick, dr. joseph g. green, jr., dr. raymond j. marion, chairman of the division, and dr. earl b. shaw.

while the division of natural sciences did not gain any new personnel, they did acquire a number of new laboratories and lecture halls. These will undoubtedly make the job easier and . . .

Master of the informal discussion group, Dr. George A. Doyle, Professor of Economics, combines all the best qualities of the dedicated scholar and devoted teacher. His unselfish devotion to the pursuit of excellence in whatever he undertakes is nowhere so well manifest as in the classroom. Here, through a unique personal quality that defies description and is his alone, he transforms the all too often formal atmosphere of the classroom into informative and thought-provoking periods of discussion. Never confusing erudition with education he instills a profound love for learning in anyone who encounters him in the classroom.

This devotion, however, as we who know him can testify, abridges the narrow confines of the classroom. Dr. Doyle is never too busy, no matter how small the student's problem. His warm smile and entertaining humor are always waiting to help solve any difficulty that may arise.

An outstanding alumnus of St. John's University (B.S.S. 1938), Niagara University (M.A. 1939), and Fordham University (Ph.D. 1951), Dr. Doyle came to Assumption from the Central Intelligence Agency in 1961. In his four short years here he has already given so much; be it as teacher, as Moderator of the International Relations Club or as Director of the Blue-Trade Research Program. But more than any of these he has given himself. In a way he came to Assumption with us and now as we prepare to leave we would like to give him something in return, and so in appreciation for all he has done for us, we the class of 1965, dedicate The Heights to Dr. George A. Doyle.

four years at assumption have meant a great deal to us, the class of 1965. memories are numerous: countless texts and papers, all night cram sessions for the seemingly endless exams, the "B," saturday night dances, basketball tournaments. these are the memories we can call to mind very easily.

yet, there have been more important and more profound influences that must not be overlooked. perhaps their very subtleness sometimes causes us to underestimate or even disregard them. in the final reckoning, however, they are the reasons we came to assumption in september, 1961.

if, after these four years we are more than sunday catholics, and the mass is more than a series of external motions — assumption has done its job.

VICTOR J. DUROCHER

ALBERT C. WALDMAN

finally, if after four years we are not satisfied to merely watch, but to do — then assumption has done its job. for the great majority of the class of 1965, all the foregoing are true. we are then, products of our environment — and proud to be such. assumption has been an alma mater in the most literal sense of the words.

in a word, four years at assumption have meant growth. we came here mere boys, needing molding and shaping. assumption has plied and kneaded us and made us men. but even more than that, she has made us leaders, the most desperately sought-after commodity of the modern world.

STEPHEN V. WALLINSKY

now these four years, perhaps the most important four years of our lives, are over. yet in one sense, they will never be over. assumption has been too deeply impressed upon us for her influence to ever be "over." "old traditions" have a way of standing the test of time.

with the completion of three years of our college career, the class of 1966 prepares now to meet the challenge of the final thrust. behind us lie three years of study, hard work and memories. ahead lie theses, comprehensives, and decisions on what will be done after graduation. but no matter what trails and difficulties are to be faced, the class of '66, has been well prepared to meet them. perhaps one of the most notable characteristics of an assumption education is the ability to thrive on challenge. with the experience of three years of challenge, we feel confident that any future trials will be taken in stride. we look forward to 1966.

two years are now behind us, two years in which assumption traditions have served to integrate the class of 1967 into the spirit that is assumption. not only has assumption wielded great influence on our academic traits, but its traditional emphasis on development of the whole man has led us into a deeper awareness of our other faculties, spiritual, physical and social. in all these fields the sophomores have made their presence felt. we have profited from assumption, and hopefully, assumption has profited from us.

the class of 1968 has distinguished itself in a number of ways from its first day at assumption. we are the largest entering class ever at assumption, again reflecting the theme of growth at salisbury heights. from student government to varsity basketball, and in every field of student activities, we have made our presence felt. this is a class of participants, of doers, not watchers. we have joined almost every group on campus and framed new ones on our own. in less than a year, we can claim then, we are assumption, dynamic, growing, vital.

as the coördinating and integrating force of a great many aspects of student life, the student government association is the core of student-centered activities. it allocates money to its member organizations, provides short-term loans, recognizes new activities and acts as the liaison between the students and the powers that be, more popularly known as the administration. with the increase in enrollment and the greater number of students with different interests, the s.g.a. found itself busier than ever with new clubs and bigger budgets. however, it also found itself with more talent to handle the job. under the capable leadership of ray legac, jack nolan and fred dumaresq, the s.g.a. had another banner year.

as usual the i.r.c. again proved to be one of the most active of campus organizations. its series of debates between members was expanded and a trip to a regional i.r.c. conference at mc gill university was sponsored.

in april, ronald dolan, andré normand and steven parker will lead discussion groups at the national convention at princeton university.

the individualist continued its fine work as the official organ of the i.r.c. it has taken its place among the other assumption literary organs as an intelligent and controversial journal.

significantly enough, the provocateur was born in the 1964-1965 academic year as a rhetorical expression of the growth and novelty so evident on campus. this publication fills void created by the defunct courier, and in many ways is a much more dynamic and controversial journal than the courier. while it lacks the more attractive format of its predecessor (due to a very limited budget) its purpose is certainly more justifiable. the provocateur does not purport to be a newspaper, for indeed, there is very little "news" on a campus this size to enent the existence of a formal organ dedicated to bringing such "news" to the attention of its readers. rather, the provocateur is a journal of student opinion, recognizing the shortcomings of both students and administration, but also seeing its strong points. anyone is invited to contribute an article so long as his article is intelligent, readable, and supported by proof.

this year, we believe that the heights, bigger and better than ever, speaks for itself. the new informal format, more color, more professional photographs and the two-tone cover make this the most unique, and we hope most memorable heights yet produced. under the capable direction of editor frank cottrell, assistant editor brian o'brien, and copy editor domenic ciancarelli, the 1965 heights took shape. with the assistance of business manager james romano and staff members joseph crisafulli, richard klement, and donald cutone the book was brought to completion. we members of the 1965 heights believe we are justified in using the adjective "excellent" for it.

this year's soccer team portrayed the typical assumption college determination and fighting spirit. not even the weather could keep the excitement, thrills, and enthusiasm from engulfing the spectators who had gathered to view these hard fought contests. led by coach tom curtis and captain george schneiderbeck with fellow seniors luke rooney, tom hayes, art lang, frank cottrell, tom o'donald, paul youd and juniors george lie, geoff smith, bernie ratigan, lou candal, jim plake and john ladner, the team proved worthy opponents of its new england rivals.

the assumption college cross country team, aided by several freshmen, closed out the 1964-65 season with an impressive 7-2 record.

with endurance and speed on the part of the runners, headed by senior captain ed johnson and classmate stan stadnicki, junior pat hyland, sophomores steve hiro, tom cate, freshmen joe baily, jim mcmanus, paul bibbo and the never ending hard work of coach joe o'brien, the team proved far superior for most opponents. even while loosing two of the mainstay's of this year's team we can be confident that the experience and stamina of the returning men will bring another victorious season to the athletic association next year.

with the loss of three starters via graduation, the basketball fortunes of assumption, while not precisely dismal, did not cause many to expect another no. 2 national spot. indeed, many wondered whether assumption could field a winning team. such pessimists felt their doubts strengthened when the greyhounds were only able to overcome worcester state in the final minutes of play. this, coupled with a devastating loss at the hands of powerful providence, caused many a shudder in faithful greyhound rooters. however, by the third game, it was evident to most that this was not the case.

 scoring machine went over the century mark for the first time in years. george ridick's prolific scoring ability, coupled with the sharpshooting of jim monahan, ted paulauskas, tommy o'connor, chris kiernan, john driscoll and charlie aleksiewicz pointed to another outstanding season. indeed it was not long before the greyhounds assumed their customary no. 1 standing in new england.

this season also saw the inauguration of worcester's own jaycee holiday festival held at, and appropriately won by, assumption.

as of this writing assumption sports a very impressive 13-4 record which includes scores of 100 or better over bates and worcester tech. the greyhounds have proved they can win and score. the most important fact, however, is the team's growth. the next few years could very well see the little school on salisbury street dethrone mighty evansville.

Coach O'Brien watches his team in action.

the presence of the biggest freshman class ever at assumption may bring joy to coach joe o'brien's heart as he considers last season's mediocre record and the loss of a number of his foremost players. of course, the presence of such established stars as jim monahan, charlie aleksiewicz and paul youd considerably lightens his anxieties, but three men, and for that matter, nine men, cannot carry a team. there is need for depth which, hopefully, the baseball greyhounds may have found this year. only time, and hard work will tell. nothing can be done about the former, but coach o'brien's teams have a reputation for the latter. if the team does not have a winning season, it will not be because of lack of work.

as was the case with so many of assumption's athletic teams, 1965 was a year of rebuilding for the tennis team. the net men were particularly hard hit because of steve warner's graduation and leo turcotte's junior year abroad. no one realizes more than coach fr. ernest fortin, that such men cannot be replaced easily. however with the nucleus of a good team including rené bonneau, norm tremblay and randy lanciault, fr. fortin is optimistic that assumption can make its presence felt on the courts this year as it has in the past.

JUST A KISS OF THE HOPS.

BUT I BROUGHT THE SHEETS DOWN LAST WEEK.

this informal section is a tangible testimony to the theme of the entire yearbook. we have attempted to minimize formality and emphasize casualness throughout the yearbook. in sections, of course, this has been impossible. here we hope that our aspirations have been realized.

informality, the theme of the yearbook, is also the theme of the assumption college student. we have tried to portray this feeling throughout the book in the layout and in the pictures. seniors are portrayed in natural poses in order to get away from the classical format. we have reached new heights on two fronts, by having the largest yearbook ever and the smallest funds. i would like to extend my thanks to don lendry, our yearbook representative who advised me about the correct way of laying out the pages and to his wife for preparing numerous meals during deadline time. from the pen of brian o'brien came the prose pertaining to the various sections. dom ciancarelli is responsible for the copy and the other various last minute jobs. the man behind the scene this year was joe crisafulli, and without him a lot of the unseen work would have never been done. james romano and his staff found out that it is harder to get money out of people than they thought. to all the other individuals i would like to give a hearty thanks for their participation in the continuation of an old tradition. quality is the keynote of this book and quality is what we received from spero, the yearbook photographer. his senior informals and especially the color pictures are something that an editor dreams of — and this dream has come true.
